Senior Dedication

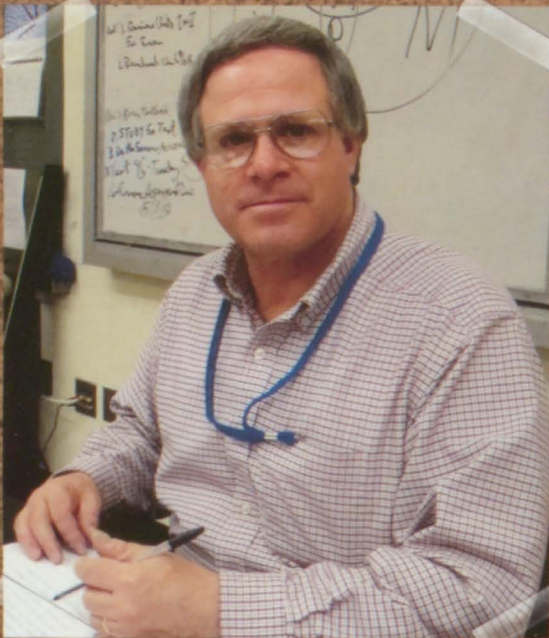

Mrs. Christine Taylor

Mrs. Taylor, words cannot explain the connection this entire class has shaped with you. Not only did we see you as the principal of our school, but we saw you as our parent away from home, that cared for us as her own. You gave us the support that we needed to excel, and provided us with a type of love and affection that none other could convey. Even though you were not physically with us to carry out the end of our high school career, we wanted to dedicate this book to you because we know that you were with us even when we did not know it. We are forever grateful to the effort and work you put into making these last four years of our lives memorable and hope that you will forever keep us in your thoughts.

Mr. Richard Balsamel

Mr. Balsamel, it is safe to say that you have beyond doubt touched our lives. Those of us that were your students, were privileged to have been taught by you. Your hilarious jokes, diverse teaching styles and your implausible intelligence will never be forgotten by this class. We are glad to say that you have left a blemish on us that can never be removed. We know that our class probably gave you the most headaches and caused you to stay up past bedtime on numerous occasions, but we hope that you can forgive us and know that your headaches were not in vain. We thank you for the information you have bestowed upon us and know that you have taught us lessons that we will accurately use for the rest of our lives.

Principal's Message

Mr. Thomas

Congratulations to the class of 2010. Always remember that education is the great equalizer. There is no investment that would pay such high dividends than an investment in you. Your future is bright and the sky truly is the limit. Do not set limitation on what you would like to achieve. I am extremely confident that we have prepared you for your journey, whatever it may be.

In closing I would like to leave you with a thought from President Barack Obama he simply states "...the fight for social justice and economic justice begins in the classroom."

Vice Principal's Message

Mr. Pontoriero

"Holy Cow!"

- Phil Rizzuto

That pretty much says it all. We have both had one hell of a senior year! Like it or not, you have experienced it all at Science Park High School, and once you leave these halls for good, those memories will never dissipate. We hope that we have taught and have prepared you well to handle the trials and tribulations that await you.

To those of you I have had the pleasure to get to know, I thank you for giving me a chance to be a part of your lives. You made me remember why I stayed in this profession. This year, despite what you may think, was quite pleasurable, and I'm happy to have had the chance to enjoy it alongside you. May the years that lie ahead of you bring you continued success and joy!

Congratulations Class of 2010!!

Mr. Avent

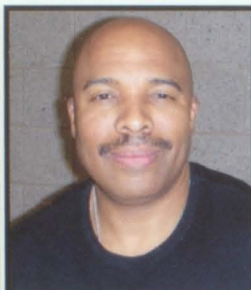

Albert Einstein once said that "the important thing is not to stop questioning", that's what comes to mind when I think of the Class of 2010. As freshman you asked questions about Warren Street, as sophomores you asked questions about swim classes, as juniors you asked questions about Driver Ed and as seniors you asked questions challenging the Governor about his policies. Now as you leave Science Park I say to you to never stop questioning. Even if it's unpopular, question, even if it can lead to ridicule, question, because this is the only true way to find the answers you seek.

To the Class of 2010 I wish you the best of luck and if the past 4 years was any indication, the future is indeed bright.

Senior year is unlike any other other . It won't hit you as you're waking up the last "first day of school", or screaming and dancing at your last pep rally, or as you're attending your last high school basketball game, or even when you're having the time of your life during spring break. I think it'll... hit you as you're standing around looking at everyone around you wearing the same cap & gown realizing that you will never see half these faces again. High school is about laughing, having fun and building friendships that almost makes you feel like you're one big family; & that is what we, the class of 2010 have done. Despite the drama, tears, and fall outs - we have become a fam(IIY) . -Zasha M.

Freshman year, everyone looked towards graduation. But as time approaches, we realize that a hello is easier than a goodbye. However, this is just the beginning of a new chapter. For all those who made a difference in my life thank you, and for the class of 2010, I wish you all the best of luck.

I want to wish each and every one of you success in everything you wish to do. Since everyone is always complaining about living in Newark, shut up, go out and make a difference. Life truly is what you make it, so do what you do and do it well. I hope you've all used high school as an experience to define yourselves like I did. Good luck! Love you guys! Congratulations! :) Dueces! P.S - "That's life"

Four years of hard work and meeting great individuals at SPHS were amazing. Memories are cherished in my heart as we all proceed to our next stage of life. Thanks to all the staff, teachers and friends that stood by my side. Good luck class of 2010! Wish you all the best!

James Wallace

James Wallace

I will always remember the homies: Suave, Mir, Tee, Smoove, and Bozo. You only get one, so live life to the fullest.

Abdul R. Walli

Well...There isn't much to say but peace to all of you. I'll miss this place (but i'll get over it quickly).

TyAnna Wiggins

TyAnna Wiggins

Break my heart why don't you! Family I must leave. Representing gold and blue, chargers reign supreme. Although I'll probably cry, and sadly wave goodbye. 2010's spirit will linger, and I'm not a sad ballet singer, but you will miss us you can't deny so break you're heart why don't I.

Amber Wilson

Amber Wilson

Ah! The time has finally come seniors we are not far from the "real world." I am going to miss you guys! These four years at science has been filled with up and downs, happy and sad days. With that said, I love you all and wish you the best. Love Amber!

To all my fellow graduates I truly wish you the best of luck in the future. Remember, "Most of the shadows of this life are caused by our standing in our own sunshine." So allow yourself to shine brighter than any star and to be happy.

Reach for the Gold Chargers!

Wherever you go, go
with all your heart.

-Confucius

Friendship isn't a big thing - it's a million little things.

-Author Unknown

Just about a month from now I'm set adrift, with a diploma for a sail and lots of nerve for oars.

-Richard Halliburton

Don't aim for success if you want it; just do what you love and believe in, and it will come naturally.

I have never let my schooling interfere with my education.

-Mark Twain

Shoot for the moon.
Even if you miss, you'll
land among the stars.

Remember When...

Uniforms were mandatory, but that plan backfired?

Mr. O'Neal spelled words wrong on the board and we corrected him for points?

We saw Mr. Alston open his eyes for the first time?

Half the graduating class did a sit-in in the auditorium because most of them thought there was a legitimate meeting and were marked down as having cut class?

The main staircase used to smell decent?

Freddy used a wireless mouse to control Mrs. Bucher's computer?

Mr. Balsamel was absent? No? ...Figures.

Mr. Shalaby made war cries during warm-ups?

During our sophomore year, Mr. Farley had half the graduating class for health during period 9?

Mother nature blessed us with a six-day weekend because there was too much snow?

Mr. Gironda deleted all his students from Facebook?

Everyone in computer apps exchanged assignments without Ms. Gregg's knowing?

Mr. Waltz pulled the emergency shower lever during the tour and got wet?

We stayed in the auditorium to watch Mrs. Handelman's play that NEVER ended?!

Ms. Flores's US History I Honors class went to Connecticut only to come back to school without having seen the museum due to a blizzard?

Yup, I remember!

"We finished 9-3 in the Super Essex A Conference and finished 2nd to Caldwell. In addition, went as far as the Finals in the county and state tournament. This accomplishment matched the deepest any Newark school has ever advanced to in the state rounds. Also keeping up with their academics the Lady Chargers volleyball team ended the first cycle with 3.2 GPA." -- Amable Martinez Girls Volleyball Coach.

Congratulations Chargers!!!

To those seniors who made a difference...

The background of the entire page is a solid black. On the left side, there are several thick, curved lines that sweep from the top left towards the bottom right. These lines are colored in a gradient: bright yellow, orange, and magenta. The lines overlap and curve in a dynamic, flowing manner, creating a sense of movement and energy.

Science Park High School Credo

We, the class of 2010, represent a bridge in the history of Science Park High School. We are the bridge between Warren Street and Norfolk Street, the last graduating class to have known both. We are the bridge between a tiny, intimate high school, and a much more expansive junior-senior high. We are the bridge between the antiquated vestiges of Newark's boom years and the intellectual center of the technologically-savvy Newark of the future. We are the bridge between a beloved, established leadership in our school and district, and the fresh, new ideas of the incoming administration.

We are the bridge between a year of enormous grief for our school community, and a future of joy and growing love for our classmates and teachers to come. We are the bridge between the vision for this place, and the battle to maintain its spirit and values into the future.

From our unique position, we feel that it is important to reach forward through time to declare and affirm our commitment to the beliefs that have made this school great.

We believe in excellence. We believe that it is in the pursuit of intellectual and personal excellence that we can realize our full potential. We believe that in times of struggle, remaining dedicated to that pursuit is the most powerful way to live our truth. We believe that nothing less than a lifetime of open, dynamic learning can bring us the power to win our own selfhood in a changing world.

We believe in integrity. We believe that there can be no progress, no trust without an absolute commitment to intellectual and personal integrity. We believe that people of integrity not only meet their world with respect and honor for the contributions of others, but that they meet themselves with full acceptance for the fruits of their own labors, and the aspirations of their hearts.

We believe in empathy. We believe our humanity lives in our ability to reach not logically but intuitively to embrace the people of this world. We believe that those choices we make and paths we take in this world cannot go astray when we ground ourselves in genuine empathy, and we believe that it is in empathy that the promises of forgiveness and hope are made real.

We believe in persistence. We believe that it is not for our weak wills and our tired hearts to decide when we may quit in our efforts to change this world, but that it is for our investment in futurity to say when and how the battle is won. We believe that in the face of challenges, it is persistence—not talent, nor charisma, nor pride—that wins out against the darkness of hopelessness.

We believe in service. We believe that all people must leave their world the better for their efforts, and we believe that sacrifices in the name of service are the currency in which we pay our debt to this planet and its people. We believe that where we can help an individual, a community, or an institution, it is our duty to do so in whatever scale we can afford and in every way that we can.

Finally, we believe in boldness. We believe that history is made by people of courage, people whose audacity and inventiveness go beyond the bounds of their known world, treading on the ground of an imagined world within their power to make real. We believe that all of us are charged with facing our lives with confidence and faith of purpose, but also with the unflagging good humor, shrewd criticism, and unshakeable authority of a citizen of this nation and this world.

As we move forward to grasp our citizenship, to inherit our collective birthright, we dedicate ourselves to these values, and charge the generations of Science Park graduates to again affirm and live them heart and soul.

We are united by these values. They are the bridge that carries us forward.
